The Future! What type of job should I have? What do I really do on that job? What training do I need for this job? Will I make enough money? What are my skills and interests that might influence my job choices?

The time to start thinking about these things is NOW! Teen Connection 2010 - Passport to Success is the place to be on June 25 through June 27.

At the three day Teen Connection Conference at UConn, you will participate in hands-on career related and success on the job workshops. A simulation workshop projects you into the future- What type of future will it be?

In addition to career workshops, other social events will encourage you to connect with yourself, with others and the world around you! And of course, Teen Connection is fun! Any youth between the ages of 14 and 19 is welcome to attend.

FRIDAY

The conference kicks off with opening ceremonies, giving you a chance to get to know other participants and the university. Floor meetings will help prepare you for the fast and exciting pace of the next two days.

SATURDAY

Collect information about careers that interest you and explore the possibilities of those careers in career investigation workshops.

Experience college life by eating in the dorm cafeterias, exploring the campus during free time, taking workshops in campus classrooms, and having fun at the dance/Wii activity.

SUNDAY

Success is not just having a job - success also means having a good work ethic and making positive decisions.

Morning workshops focus on identifying and fostering a positive work ethic and will end with a cumulative activity on Sunday. Welcome to the Real World, Reality Check, is a simulation where you interpret everything you learned. You project yourself into the future. You are now 25 years old making choices and decisions regarding careers, housing, and other lifestyle options. Will you like what you become?

Teen Connection ends with closing ceremonies, a time to reflect on what you have experienced and learned.
